

February 24, 2019
7th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Saul, the first king of Israel, had turned against young David, the shepherd boy who had become so popular with the people after defeating Goliath. In today's reading we hear Saul and his soldiers on a campaign to kill David were a sleep in a cave. David found them and could have killed Saul but resisted the temptation because of his respect for the anointed king.

Jesus in the Gospel insists we must love our enemies. He calls us to overcome evil with goodness and forgiveness. Jesus sets very high ideals before us!
